Alterative

Purify the Blood use Dr. Jayne's Alterative. It acts directly on the blood, stimulating the absorbents, overcoming the ulcerative state of the pores of the skin, and imparting a healthy glow to the Complexion. Pimples, Pustules, Tetter, and Skin Diseases of all kinds, Mercurial Affections, Tumors, and all varieties of complaints arising from depraved or disordered blood, are effectually eradicated by this remedy.

Scrofula in all its Forms is cured by the persistent use of Dr. Jayne's Alterative. It destroys the poisonous principle which originates Scrofula, and ultimately drives it from the system. It will remove enlargements of the Glands or Bones, and is a safe remedy in cases of Ulcers or Sores of all kinds.

Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings are effectually cured by Dr. Jayne's Alterative. By stimulating the action of the absorbents, all watery or calcareous depositions are gradually carried off, toning up the patient at the same time, by strengthening the digestive organs and exciting the Liver, Kidneys, &c. to perform their functions. For Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint it has proved its value, and it has established cures in cases of Epilepsy. It may be safely relied on by any one needing a medicine to build up the system, cleanse the blood, or to restore the normal action of the Secretive Organs.

EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Money Raised by Moody and Sankey.

New York, April 19.—The World says $[illegible] was raised at Moody and Sankey's meeting, the Herald $10,000, and the Tribune $1,100.

The New York Hotel to Close.

The New York Hotel will be closed in a few days. The concern has not been paying recently and the landlord refuses to reduce the rent, which is $[illegible] annually.

Tweed Restitution Suits.

In the suits against the members of the Tweed ring to compel restitution to the city council, the ring plasterer, yesterday, Garvey, agreeing to refund as soon as the amount of his indebtedness can be determined. The same counsel, acting for Keyser the ring plumber, will file a similar answer.

Suit for Fees for Lobbying Dismissed.

In the suit of Redick McKee against Richard [illegible] for lobby services at Washington Judge Lawrence dismissed the complaint although [illegible] government was put in evidence on the ground that the contract was against public policy and void.

White and Negro Laborers' Row.

Cincinnati, April 19.—Additional advices in regard to the threatened disturbances between white and negro laborers on the government locks at [illegible], West Virginia, are that after consultation between the parties, the negroes agreed to go back to-day if unmolested, which agreement was accepted by the whites.

Withdrawn from the Congregational Union.

New York, April 18.—Henry C. Bowen has withdrawn from the Congregational Union. He was one of the founders of the union, and one of its [illegible] supporters. It is said that he contributed more money to it than any man in the country [illegible] in its success; he stated that he is heartily in sympathy with Dr. Storrs and [illegible] Taylor and his reasons for withdrawing were similar to theirs.

Chicago City Election.

Chicago, April 18.—At midnight.—The returns [illegible] in from the city election are only scattering, though enough precincts are heard from, however, to indicate that the side of decency has prevailed; that what is known as the "bummer element" has been worsted, and that the Common Council will be composed largely of good men. [illegible] Democratic nominee for city treasurer, has probably been beaten by Clark Lipe Republican candidate. The vote for Hayne, for mayor was tolerably full, though both Republicans and Democrats have scratched his name in many districts. The Tribune editorially to-morrow will discuss the grounds on which Mr Hayne will base his claims to the mayoralty. They are, first that a vacancy existed by the adoption of the new charter which provides that the persons then in office should continue to act until the next election; second, that this vacancy existing, it was the right of the people to elect a person to fill that vacancy at the next election. Third, the failure of the mayor and common council, or of all other officers to call such election, cannot defeat the right of the people to hold it, and that such election is as valid as though notice had been given. Fourth, that the election having been held, no refusal by the judges of election to make returns, or the common council to canvass them, can invalidate it.

Murdered in a Court Room.

St. Louis, April 19.—A Globe Democrat special from [illegible], Mo., says: Col. A. A. Spencer was murdered in the court room at Lynn Creek last evening by a stranger giving his name as Jeffreys. The only explanation of the affair is that Jeffreys asked Spencer what he had done with his wife and children, and immediately drew a revolver and shot him three times, twice through the head. Jeffreys made no attempt to escape, but surrendered.

Dom Pedro at the Opera.

New York, April 19.—The Emperor of Brazil and suite attended the opera at the Academy last night. The orchestra played the Brazilian national air while the audience rose. A distinguished audience was present.

The New York Bar and the Charge against O'Conor.

At a meeting of the Bar Association last night, the [illegible] held to consider the charges against [illegible], reported that O'Conor's statement [illegible] thereto. O'Conor himself opposed the report, and a new committee was appointed as a tribunal for the investigation of the charges.

A Railroad to be Sold.

Louisville, April 19.—The Louisville Paducah and S. W. R. R., now in the receiver's hands, has been ordered to be sold by the Marshal of the United States court of this district, at a time to be hereafter fixed.

A Big Break in the Levee.

[illegible], April 19.—The levee south of this city has broken in three points and a large portion of [illegible] on the Illinois side is overflowed opposite the city. Houses and barns have floated away, and the damage that has been done cannot be estimated. The entire population of the bottom have fled to the bluffs, in many cases leaving everything behind them. Meetings have been called at [illegible] to assist the unfortunates. Much suffering is likely to follow this great calamity. The river has declined one inch since yesterday and it is believed that the worst is over.

National Labor Convention.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 19.—The national labor convention met here yesterday morning. A roll of delegates showed 110 delegates. The morning session was occupied in the transaction of unimportant business. In the afternoon two reports were received from the committee on resolutions, the minority report being signed by nine members. The majority report was read and the resolutions considered seriatim. Upon reading the second resolution, as reported by the majority, Mr. Mutcalf moved the adoption of the minority report in lieu of this resolution. The minority report was read and adopted, whereupon the Cincinnati delegation arose and left the hall in a body, giving as their reason that the report of the minority, which had been adopted as the second resolution, was contrary to the instructions of their constituents. The resolution is as follows:

Resolved, That we favor the repeal of the national bank law and the resumption act, that we favor the issue of government money, to be made a full legal tender for all monetary purposes, convertible into interest-bearing bonds at the option of the holder, and reconvertible into said legal tender money at the same option; further, that the rate of interest upon such convertible bonds shall not, at any time, exceed [illegible] per cent per annum; that we favor a system of tariff for the purpose of encouraging and protecting American industry and production, and are opposed to any [illegible] of the present tariff laws.

Other resolutions of an unimportant character were also read, after which the convention adjourned.

A New Planet.

Ann Arbor, Michigan, April 19.—Prof. Watson says he discovered on the night of the 15th inst., in the constellation of Virgo, a planet hitherto unknown, the continued observation of which was prevented by clouds. Last night he observed it [illegible]. It shines like a star of the eleventh magnitude. Its position is right ascension 13 hours [illegible], declination 11 deg. 47 min. south.

Great Damage by Crevasses.

Memphis, April 19.—The crevasse at Delhi Monday night caused great alarm at Friar's Point, and all citizens at that point turned out en masse to try to repair the breach in the levee, which is reported to be a hundred yards wide, and the water was pouring through with fearful force at last accounts, overwhelming the plantations bordering [illegible] lake, and will find its outlet through the [illegible] into the Tallahatchie river.

New Orleans, April 19.—The levee is broken at Point Lookout, in Carroll parish. This is the [illegible] levee in the State of Louisiana. The break here is a mile wide and the water is flowing through without making a ripple. The loss there is tremendous, and it is estimated it will reduce the crop sent to this city 2,000 bales. On the Mississippi side, the Buckeye and Wade breaks will devastate Bolivar, Joaquin and Warren counties and will be equally as damaging as on the opposite side.

Montana Republican Convention.

Helena, Mont., April 19.—The Republican territorial convention in session at Deer Lodge Montana, to-day instructed the delegates for Blaine. The proceedings were stormy.

WEST INDIES.

The Revolution in Hayti Triumphant.

New York, April 19.—The Haytien consulate here has cable advices from Kingston that the revolution in Hayti is completely triumphant. President Domingue has fled. Vice President Rameau and General Lorquette have been shot. Simon [illegible] is in Port au Prince, and it is presumed he will take charge of the government.

MEXICO.

Mexican Revolution.

New York, April 19.—The Herald's Brownsville special says: The American consul at Matamoros again calls for assistance from the American troops. The raiders and rancheros are all Diaz men. Some persons have been assassinated at Zaragosa. The government troops have been victorious near Monterey. Both sides are confident.

SOUTH AMERICA.

The Paraguayan Minister Coming.

Rio Janeiro, April 19.—Don Jose Machain, the Paraguayan Minister to Washington, charged also with the representation of Paraguay at the Centennial exhibition at Philadelphia, left Buenos Ayres April 10th, for the United States via Europe.

The Democratic county convention was held at Coquille City last Saturday.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Iron for the Southern Pacific Railway.

Washington, April 19.—Huntington has concluded a contract with the [illegible] Iron Works of [illegible] for [illegible] tons of rail and trimmings for 125 [illegible] of the Southern Pacific railroad.

Report Concerning the President's Testimony.

New York, April 19.—The Herald's Washington special says: A prominent Congressman says he thinks [illegible] committee to tell everything he knows regarding [illegible] of the [illegible]. Having no chance [illegible] he would rather sacrifice the party than himself. He claims he made appointments with honorable intentions, but was deceived by friends. Some time ago the President mortgaged his house at Long Branch. Lately the mortgage was paid with money resulting from the sale of [illegible] bonanza mining stock which [illegible] traced many hours [illegible] after the passage of the silver bill.

Treaty Considered Abrogated.

The last dispatches between England and America show extradition as a dead letter. The treaty may be considered abrogated. Great Britain's position is regarded as singular as it is untenable.

New Charges of Corruption against Bristow.

New charges against Bristow of corruption in Kentucky while district attorney by having certain indictments quashed have turned up before the committee on the Department of Justice. Witnesses from Louisville will probably be summoned.

Gen. Ingalls Likely to be Courtmartialed.

Gen Rufus Ingalls will probably be a candidate for courtmartial at an early day. He is charged with being interested in a contract with the war department and of misappropriating the funds for payments under it. Thus far these are only allegations. Don Piatt will be an important witness in this case.

Drs. Cox and Bliss Charged with Taking Bribes.

A new piece of rascality has been brought to light by the district investigating committee. Drs Cox and Bliss, members of the board of health, are charged with receiving $10,000 for awarding contracts to a certain excavating company.

The Bristow Calumnies Refuted.

The Times Washington special says the calumnies lately set afloat against Bristow are effectually disposed of. A new story of his connection with the Texas Pacific Railroad has lately been prepared but it is false. The last of this week has been selected as the time of springing this sensation, but the authors may wait longer.

The President's Salary-Reduction Veto.

The President's veto message says the President's salary was $25,000 when we had only 3,000,000 of people, now we have 40,000,000. Wealth has largely increased and the cost of living is vastly out of proportion. He states from personal experience, that the salary is inadequate for the expenses of the White House.

Civil Service Reform—Double Salary.

The committee on civil service reform are considering the testimony of people who claim to have been in the receipt of more than one salary from the government. Nettleship testified to-day, and two or three others to follow. Nettleship confesses he drew a salary as a New York custom house officer while he was also employed in the secret service.

Custer's Charges against Merrill.

Custer testified before the military committee concerning the charges that Merrill received a bribe. Custer seemed to know absolutely nothing, except by hearsay. He wanted to read the letters of the officers who made the charges without disclosing the name of the writer, but the committee would not allow him. The committee are not likely to investigate the charge further. Custer is losing prestige.

Charges of Perjury in the Haralson-Bromberg Case.

The Tribune's Washington special shows that in the contested election case between Haralson, colored, and Bromberg, white, there has been an astonishing amount of perjury. It is a curious fact that Republican witnesses perjured themselves in behalf of a Democrat. Several Democratic officers of the House of representatives will be asked to resign for reasons discreditable to themselves. Republicans ask if these things are possible in three months, what would be the result if the party controlled the nation.

After the California Whisky Frauds.

The Herald's Washington special says the President will appoint a U. S. District Attorney for California to investigate the whisky frauds.

The Originator of the Blaine Scandal to be Examined.

Government Director Harrison, of the Union Pacific, through whom the Blaine scandal was first published will soon testify before the judiciary committee.

New Charge against Schenck.

The House committee on foreign affairs has received evidence that Schenck received $1,000 and some stock for services in getting the bill passed for the benefit of a Colorado immigration and land scheme. This was while Schenck was on the ways and means committee. The proofs are understood to be documents over Schenck's signature.

Post-Traderships.

The Sun's Washington special says Mr Reynolds, post trader at Camp Supply, has arrived and to-morrow will testify he paid Babcock $1,000 for that post.

The Items of Phillips' Report Called for.

Washington, April 19.—The House has called upon the Secretary of the Treasury for the items of the report made by special agent D. L. Phillips, who was detailed, last fall, to investigate the whisky ring supposed to exist on the Pacific slope. Phillips says he investigated carefully the accusations made by Senator Sargent against revenue agent Clark. He found that the affidavits upon which the charges were based were made by distillers, whisky dealers and one Johnson, a revenue agent, who was admitted to have been a spy on Clark. The attacks upon him were intended he thinks to impair the confidence of the department in his honesty, and thereby secure the removal of a public servant who was proving troublesome in California to the revenue officials and distillers engaged in plundering the government. Phillips thinks Clark had abundant reason for urging the collector to seize the Antioch distillery. The following is an extract from Mr Phillips' report. About the time Senator Sargent filed his charges against Clark, it was learned that one Chas Warner, formerly engaged in distilling at Atlanta and Canton Illinois, and now residing in Watsonville, California, was in possession of important information as to the frauds on the revenue in the distillation of whisky in San Francisco. After protracted efforts and earnest protestation on his part of personal danger, Warner was prevailed on to surrender certain books kept by him which discovered the most startling frauds in the revenue in 1865 and 1866, and 1868 and 1869 and these frauds were perpetrated by the very men who have since and do now control the distilling and liquor business of California especially in San Francisco. The amount of these frauds approximate $1,500,000 and cover a little over two years' time. The men who perpetrated them are the men who met Clark with insolence, abuse and threats, and some of their affidavits form the basis in part of the charges of Sargent against him. Warner, from whom I was mainly instrumental in procuring information, has been threatened with death for his disclosures and informed of men who will murder him. He has written to Hawley to furnish him protection and says to escape assassination he expects to be forced to leave California. It is well known that hired spies, in liquor interests during the past winter have watched by day and night, every step of Hawley, Clark and myself and every word incautiously uttered was known and reported to government officials and whisky men continually. Phillips details at considerable length the attempts made by himself and supervisor Hawley to prosecute persons engaged in defrauding the government, but they failed, and he says because of the failure of the district attorney's office to do its duty he became convinced not only of a total disinclination to prosecute distillers and liquor dealers for a violation of law lest the officials should be found involved, but of the fixed determination in the district attorney's office not to do so, if escape therefrom was possible.

He has this branch of his report as follows: After a long and careful observation I am convinced that under the present federal officials on the Pacific coast the prosecution and conviction of guilty distillers and whisky dealers in San Francisco are out of the question. I wish, however, to say that in the federal judges the government has great reason to take an earnest, honest pride. They are able, learned, patriotic and just and no man can more keenly feel than they the impossibility of faithfully executing the law and vindicating the just claims of the government as matters now stand. In the investigation of the custom house, Phillips found great looseness and irregularity. He discovered that in some instances the luggage of passengers arriving from foreign ports was delivered to the owners without any examination and that this was done by a special order from the collector. In this way hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of merchandise is brought into San Francisco and passed without payment of duty. When merchandise or personal effects are examined they are valued so low that little more than fifty per cent of duty is collected. Sometimes masters of vessels come into port without having all of their cargoes on their manifests. When a cargo is discharged or during its discharge, if the inspector finds goods not on and reports them the collector allows the master to enter them. Manila cigars have been brought into San Francisco without paying duty, or with the payment of so very small a portion of the duty which should be collected that the market price of them is only about $10 per thousand although the average duty upon them is about $12 per thousand. Large quantities of costly furniture, pictures, works of art etc, Phillips says are imported in San Francisco without payment of duty.

Payment of Silver Coin.

Washington, April 18.—The first payment of silver coin was made to-day by Treasurer New to Representative Foster of the appropriation committee. The regular payment to the public for fractional currency will begin on Thursday again. [illegible] to the effect having been prepared. It is expected there will be a heavy demand for coin for the first few days.

Journal Clerk Smith's Case.

New York, April 19.—The House committee on rules to-day agreed upon the basis of a report adverse to the position of Chas. B. Smith in advertising to collect [illegible] in the event of the passage of the pending county bill with [illegible] journal clerk of the House.

Nominations Sent to the Senate.

The President sent to the Senate to-day the nominations of John M. Coghlan, to be U. S. attorney for the district of California; [illegible] White postmaster at Carson City, Nevada; Chas H. Lord [illegible] Tucson, Arizona.

The President Denies the Anti-Babcock Report.

There is the authority of the President for denying the statement that he had requested the dismissal of Sargent from the public service of the employes who were appointed to their position at the request of Babcock.

Gen. Custer against Gen. Merrill.

Gen Custer appeared before the House committee to-day in relation to the charge against Gen. Merrill of receiving $800 as a bribe. Gen Custer testified that all the information he possessed on the subject was contained in a private letter to himself, the author of which he did not wish to disclose. He said he notified his superior officer and also notified the War Department but no notice had been taken of the matter. He disclaimed any intention of wishing to persecute or injure Merrill. The story had come to him and he had given information beyond that he knew nothing about the matter.

Sherman's Silver Bill.

The bill reported and recommended for passage by the Senate finance committee to-day is in its full text as follows: "A bill to amend the laws relating to silver coin.

Be it enacted, etc. There shall be coined at the mints of the United States a silver dollar of the weight of 412 8-10 grains of standard silver the emblems device and inscriptions of which shall conform to those prescribed by law for the gold and silver coins of the United States, with such modifications thereof as may be necessary to render the new dollars readily distinguishable from trade dollars, and in the coinage and delivery thereof the same deviation from the standard weight and fineness shall be allowed as are prescribed by law for the trade dollar and said dollar herein authorized shall be a legal tender at its nominal value for any money not exceeding $20 in any one payment, except for customs duties and interest on the public debt and the trade dollar shall not hereafter be a legal tender.

Sec 2. That the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to pay the said dollars out for an equal amount of U. S. notes, which shall be retired and canceled and not be again replaced by other notes. All U. S. notes redeemed under this act shall be held to be a part of the sinking fund provided for by the present law, the interest to be computed thereon as in case of bonds redeemed under the acts relating to the sinking fund.

Sec 3. Any owner of silver bullion may deposit the same at the mints and it shall be taken at its market value ascertained and publicly announced from time to time by the director of the mint, with the approval of the secretary of the Treasury, to be paid for either in silver dollars, or with gold coin, or U. S. notes, or bullion for coinage, if said silver dollars may be procured, in the mode provided for as to other silver coins by section 3,526 of the revised statutes of the United States, gain and waste to be accounted for as provided in said section.

Emma Mine.

Washington, April 19.—Ex-Senator Stewart was recalled before the committee on foreign affairs to-day. It will be recollected from former testimony, that the witness had a conversation with Senator Morton in July, 1871, trying to engage him as counsel in the Emma mine suit, but which Senator Morton subsequently declined. In reply to Springer's question witness said he advised Lyon to send Senator Morton a retaining fee of $1,000 having previously informed the senator that if the suit turned out well he should have a larger compensation. After the witness saw Senator Morton's testimony before this committee, given in March last, not knowing whether Lyon had complied with his suggestion to send a retaining fee to Morton, he wrote to the Denver Bank for information as to whether a draft had been drawn in favor of Senator Morton on that bank. The reply was that there was no evidence that such a check had been drawn. The reason why witness applied to the bank for information was that Chaffee, the president of the Bank, furnished money to defray the litigation expenses of Lyon against the Emma Mine Co.

Kilbourn's Case.

In the Kilbourn case to-day Judge Carter stated he wished to hear the argument as to the jurisdiction of the House of Representatives fully argued and refused to entertain a motion to admit Kilbourn to bail at the present time. The arguments will probably last several days.

Clymer's committee to-day heard A. E. Reynolds, of the firm of Lee & Reynold's, post traders at Camp Supply, Indian Territory. He testified he got his appointment through Gen. Hendricks, and paid him $1,500 for it. He never paid a dollar to Gen. Babcock or his brother.

INDIANA DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Indianapolis, April 19.—The Democratic State Convention was called to order at 10:20 A. M. by Gen. Manson, chairman of the state committee, and, after prayer, was organized, with Hon. Thos R. Cobb of Knox as permanent chairman.

The committee on resolutions not being ready to report when called an attempt was made to proceed with the ballot for candidate for Governor, Hon Wm H Holman, Hon Franklin Landers and Judge Niblack being before the convention. Landers appeared in the gallery, and demanded his name be withdrawn, for the reason that he had from the first intended, and did now intend that his name and Judge Holman's should not be before the convention together. This was met with cries of "No!" from all parts of the house amid much confusion, which lasted for some time. At this point the name of D. W. Voorhees was presented as a compromise candidate, and an attempt was made to call the roll, but it was found impossible to do so. The committee on resolutions was therefore allowed to report, when another attempt at a ballot was made, confusion and excitement prevailing. Holman and Landers were again nominated and again withdrawn. Landers appeared again and peremptorily demanded that his name be withdrawn. James D. Williams of Knox county, was here offered as a compromise, and an attempt to nominate him by acclamation was made, but the convention would not allow a vote. Gen. M. D. Manson was now offered, and the chairman ordered the roll called for a ballot, when Landers was again placed in nomination, it being understood that Holman's name was positively withdrawn. The wildest excitement here prevailed. Motions of all kinds were made. The chair being unable to control the convention, ordered the band on the stage to play, after which a ballot was taken, the delegates voting according to their preference and not regarding the withdrawals, resulting as follows: Holman, 910; Landers, 898; Manson, 23; Williams 28. No choice, 9[illegible] being necessary. Landers appeared, again demanding to be heard and protesting against his name being used. While the votes were being cast for Holman, the chairman announced that Holman and Landers were both withdrawn and ordered a ballot with Williams as the only name before the convention. Toward the close, it being apparent that Williams had the nomination many counties changed to him who had before voted for Landers. Marion county then moved that Williams be declared the unanimous choice of the convention for Governor which was carried. Without the result of the second ballot being announced Isaac P. Gray of Randolph was nominated for Lieut Governor by acclamation.

The following ticket was nominated by the Democratic convention to-day: Governor, James D. Williams; Lieutenant Governor Isaac P. Gray; Judges of the Supreme Court S. E. Buskirk, A. C. Downey, John Pettit and Jas. L. Worden; Secretary of State, John E. Neff; Auditor of the State, E. Henderson; Treasurer Benj. C. Shaw; Attorney General C. Buskirk, together with a number of officers. The platform reaffirms adherence to the constitution; the perpetual union of States; local self government. It declares in favor of the maintenance of free schools, economy in government, federal, State and local. The debt, our financial distress and the public corruption are attributed to the unwise government and legislation, the vicious financial policy of contraction and the extravagance of the Republican party, whose officials have been so long unchanged. It charges that the civil service has become an object of personal gain; that it is the first duty of the people to purge out improper officials; that the exposures of corruption in the administration of national affairs demonstrates that a thorough and general change is the only means of reform. It commends the efforts of the majority of the House of Representatives for the reduction of expenses. The ensuing resolution reads as follows:

Fourth—We believe in the ancient doctrine that gold and silver are the true and safe basis for a currency, and we are in favor of measures and policies that will produce uniformity in the coin and paper money of the country without destroying or embarrassing the business interests of the people.

Fifth. We oppose the contraction of the volume of our paper currency and declare ourselves in favor of the adoption of measures looking to the gradual retirement of the circulation of National Banks and the substitution thereof of circulating notes issued by authority of the government. We declare for the undivided school fund appropriated only for non-sectarian common schools [illegible] a license law properly guarded [illegible] the jurisdiction of federal courts in civil causes has been so extended as to become burdensome to the people increasing their expenses and compelling them to try their causes at places remote from their homes. We express [illegible] probation of the bill which recently passed the House prohibiting employes of the U. S. contributing money for political purposes. We oppose the payment of the District of Columbia debts by the United States. We declare that in recognition of the eminent public services rendered by Hon. Thomas A. Hendricks he is the unanimous choice of Indiana for the Presidency of the United States, and that the delegates to the National Convention are instructed to cast the vote of the State in the manner to be determined by the majority. In view of the great recuperative power of our country we believe a natural return to specie payments will be promoted by the increase of national wealth and industries, by the assurance of harmony at home and peace abroad and by strengthening our public credit under a wise and economical administration of our national affairs.

The resolution further favors the legal tender notes as safe and demands the repeal of the legislation enacted by the Republican party providing for its withdrawal from circulation and the substitution therefor of National Bank paper. They denounce the resumption act as most paralyzing and harmful in its effects on the industries of the country and demand its repeal. They oppose the payment of any part of the rebel debt, payment for emancipated slaves or property of rebels destroyed during the war.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senate.

Washington, April 19.—The galleries of the Senate chamber were again densely crowded, ladies predominating. So great was the rush that it was found necessary to close some of the doors. Soon after the Senate was called to order the tables and seats for the use of the managers, the accused and his counsel were arranged as on Monday. Immediately after the journal of yesterday's proceedings was read the chair laid before the Senate the following message:

To the Senate of the United States: Herewith I return Senate bill No. 172, entitled an act fixing the salary of the President of the United States, without my approval. I am constrained to this course from a sense of duty to my successors in office, to myself and to what is due to the dignity of the position of chief magistrate of a nation of more than forty millions of people. When the salary of the President of the United States was fixed by Congress at $25,000 per annum we were a nation of but 3,000,000 of people, poor from a long and exhaustive war without commerce or manufactures, with but few wants and those cheaply supplied. The salary must then have been deemed small for the responsibilities—necessarily and justifiably so, from the impoverished condition of the treasury and the simplicity it was desired to cultivate in the republic. The pay of Congressmen under the constitution was first fixed at $6 per day for time actually in session on an average about 120 days to each session, or seven hundred and twenty dollars per year, or less than one twentieth of the salary of the President. Congressmen have legislated upon their own salaries from time to time so unlawfully that it reached $5,000 per annum or one fifth that of the President before the salary of the latter was increased. No one having a knowledge of the cost of living at the capital will contend that the present salary of Congressmen is too high; unless it be the intention to make the office one entirely of honor, when the salary should be abolished. This is a proposition repugnant to our republican ideas and institutions. I don't believe the citizens of this republic desire their public servants to serve them without a fair compensation for their services. Twenty five thousand dollars do not defray the expenses of the Executive for one year and have not in my experience. It is now one fifth in value what it was when fixed by the constitution in supplying demands and wants. Having no personal interest in this matter, I have felt myself free to return this bill to the House in which it originated with my objection, believing that in doing so I meet the wishes and judgment of the great majority of those who indirectly pay all salaries and all other expenses of the government. U. S. GRANT.

Executive Mansion, April 18, 1876.

On motion of Clayton it was ordered that the message be printed and referred to the committee on civil service and retrenchment.

Ex-Secretary Belknap, accompanied by his counsel, Carpenter, Black and Blair, entered the Senate chamber at 12:25, and at 12:30 the Senate suspended the consideration of legislative business to resume the impeachment trial, and the secretary of the Senate was directed to notify the managers that the Senate was ready to proceed with the trial. The managers shortly after arrived and Lord, on behalf of the board, sent to the secretary's desk and had read the answer adopted by the House to the plea of Belknap, to the effect that at the time of the commission of the acts charged against said Belknap he was an officer of the United States, and he was such officer until after the House of Representatives, by its proper committee, had completed its investigation into the charges against him and were preparing for his impeachment, and that this fact was known to him when he resigned.

Carpenter, of counsel for the accused, asked for a copy of the replication of the House of Representatives and for time, until Monday next, to answer the same.

Edmunds submitted an order that the counsel file his answer to the replication by the 24th inst., and that the managers file their rejoinder by the 25th, and that the trial proceed on the 27th inst., which was agreed to after some discussion, and, on motion of Edmunds, it was ordered that the Senate sitting as a court of impeachment adjourn until the 27th instant at 12:30 P. M.

The Senate then resumed legislative business and the House bill to define the tax on fermented and malt liquors.

After discussion, the bill to repave Pennsylvania avenue was passed.

Morrill, of Maine called up the House bill making an appropriation for the supply of deficiencies in the appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1876, and for prior years. The various amendments proposed by the committee on appropriations were agreed to, among them the following: for payment of mileage to senators who took their seats at the session convened on March 5th, 1875 by proclamation of the President who were not members of the previous Congress $5,136; for labor in the senate, $18,000; for folding documents $1,400, for horses and wagons for the Senate, $565.

Edmunds, of Vermont, moved an amendment providing that payments for mileage to Senators should be for the actual traveling; agreed to.

The amendment of the committee on appropriations appropriating $25,000 to pay the compensation and expenses of the Black Hills commission was agreed to.

The amendment appropriating $73,500 to pay the expenses of the transportation and custody of articles belonging to the United States, to be exhibited at the Centennial exhibition was agreed to.

Morrill, of Maine, submitted a resolution directing the Secretary of the Interior to communicate to the Senate any information in relation to the present situation and disturbances in the Sioux reservation and whether military force has been interposed therein and if so, if it was by the authority of the the department of the Interior and the reason for such interposition; agreed to.

Howe from the committee on foreign relations reported a bill to amend the laws in regard to the regulations of consular courts of the United States in Japan; placed on the calendar.

House.

Culberson introduced a bill to extend the time for the construction of the Texas and Pacific railroad; referred.

The House committee on the Alabama contested election case of Bromberg against Haralson, report being unanimous against the claim of the contestant Bromberg, and declaring the sitting member (Haralson) entitled to the seat.

Lord, chairman of the managers of the impeachment, reported the replication proposed to be made to the plea of jurisdiction filed on behalf of Belknap. The replication was adopted by the House and was ordered to be communicated to the Senate.

The sergeant-at-arms made a report to the House that he had obeyed the writ of habeas corpus in Hallet Kilbourn's case, and that the body of Kilbourn had been ordered by Judge Carter to the custody of the marshal.

Baker offered a resolution instructing the select committee on the real estate pool to investigate whether any members of the former Congress were connected with that pool while such members; adopted.

Whitehouse introduced a bill for re-funding the interest bearing debt of the United States in consols bearing four per cent gold interest and having forty years to run; referred to the committee on ways and means.

O'Brien, of Maryland introduced a bill to provide for coinage of Centennial coins; referred. The bill provides for silver dollars and half dollars, one side of the coins to give corresponding value in coins of other principal nations.

The House then resumed the consideration of the Florida contested election case.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Victoria, April 19.—The steamer Otter returned to-day from the search for the steamer Sir James Douglas. The report of railway engineers on the latter vessel as to the impassable state of Gardiner's Inlet on the 10th of April, and the report of the Otter as to the condition of Bute and Dean canals a week ago, it is said will decide the question of the location of the route of the road as far as Fort George, in favor of Bute Inlet. During most of February, March and a part of April while the engineers were at Gardiner's Inlet, fierce gales prevailed, and it was intensely cold with five or six feet of snow on a level. The waters were frozen for a distance of 25 miles below the head and bad anchorage. The Otter reached Waddington Harbor, head of Bute Inlet, on the 12th of April, and found no ice in the Inlet and merely a sprinkling of snow on the banks. Afterward she proceeded to Dean Canal and found ice and deep snow everywhere. The Indians reported the canal as having been frozen all winter.

In the House yesterday Premier Elliott announced the intention of the government to appoint a gold commissioner for Cassiar district, and on Thursday and Friday would introduce acts in relation to taxation.

Mr. A. J. Wigle, secretary of the Universalist State Convention, informs us that the convention for 1876 will be held at Zena, Polk county Oregon, commencing on Thursday, the 8th day of June, and continue over the following Sunday. A cordial invitation is extended to everybody.

The New United States District Attorney for California.

San Francisco, April 19.—The resignation of Van Dyke as district attorney and the appointment of Coghlan as his successor is looked upon by many who favor the honest administration of revenue matters as a jump from the frying pan into the fire, the impression being that, with no more zeal in behalf of the government, the new appointee would bring more ability to bear in circumventing the ends of justice and in bolstering up the operations of the ring. Van Dyke is reported to have said of himself that he was between the upper and the nether millstone, that the people who owed him official positions and the same power that had been backing him up were seeking to throw discredit on him, while the opponents of that power were a unit against him. It is said however, that whatever course Coghlan may pursue, matters in the Internal Revenue Department are lately working very favorably for the interests of honest administration and the defeat of the ring. It is likely that no successor will be appointed to Supervisor Hawley, but that the duties of his position will devolve upon the special revenue agent. Relative to the manufacture of crooked whisky on this coast, the revenue officials assert positively that whether eastern made whisky sent out here does, or does not pay tax, in neither event can the distillers on the Pacific coast compete in price with eastern makers, without defrauding the revenue. The superior quality of California wheat distilled spirits would create a limited demand, in certain quarters, but for general use would be crowded out by the inferior low priced eastern article. As a necessary result they claim that there is not a distillery on the coast that does not systematically cheat the revenue, which gives some idea of the magnitude of the swindling going on.

Katie Pease Sold.

San Francisco, April 19.—The racer Katie Pease was sold at auction to-day for $3,850, Judge Mee being the purchaser.

Special Meeting of Stockholders Called.

A special meeting of stockholders of the Gold Hill Gold and Silver Mining Company is called for Friday, May 19th, to consider a proposition to increase the capital stock from $3,000,000 to $10,000,000, divided into 100,000 shares.

Independent and Republican Political Meeting.

A large meeting of prominent Independents and Republicans was held last evening to complete a ticket for the Republican primary to be held to-morrow. The object of the meeting was for the selection of citizens of standing and character, and those who are opposed to the Carr ring, and who, if elected, will go to the State Convention unpledged, and will work for the best interests of the party, irrespective of any clique. It was stated that Coll Shannon, of the custom house and federal ring, had already fixed up a ticket and they would use desperate means to elect it. An executive committee was appointed to meet to-day.

Democratic County Committee Meeting.

The Democratic county committee met last night pursuant to call and went into executive session and decided that each member should appoint one delegate to the National Convention and 32 at large, making the requisite number under State regulation.

Meeting of Citizens' Centennial Committee.

The Citizens' Home Centennial Committee met last evening in the fifteenth district court-room and elected officers: President, Gen. Jas. Coey; vice presidents, Col. J. D. Stevenson and Col Peter Donahue; secretary, F. B. Murphy; treasurer, Jas. C. Flood.

Anti-Chinese Delegates Appointed.

Frank M. Pixley, Eugene Casserly and Mark L. McDonald have been appointed delegates to present the Chinese question to the consideration of Congress.

Pinney's Paramour Returned.

The woman, Georgie Costar, who accompanied the navy defaulter, George M. Pinney, in his flight from this city in September last, has returned. She states that Pinney, while walking in the streets of Pernambuco, gave her a thousand dollars to aid their relations, and slipped away while she was making purchases in the store. She saw nothing more of him, and knows nothing of his whereabouts. She says he had only about ten thousand dollars with him on the ship. He took only a valise and satchel from the ship at Pernambuco.

Held to Answer the Charge of Murder.

San Francisco, April 19.—Thomas Drum, the night watchman, who killed the Chinese rag-picker in a new building on Brook's alley, at 3 o'clock A. M. last Monday, was examined in the police court this forenoon, and held to answer on a charge of murder.

Good Prospects for Fruit, Hay and Grain.

Drytown, April 19.—Present appearances indicate an unusual crop of fruit and hay. But little grain is raised in this neighborhood.

North Juan, April 19.—The prospects of the hay crop in this section were never better. There will be an abundance of fruit, freezing weather only preventing.

Batavia, April 19.—The wheat average sown is the same as in previous years. The prospect is better than for many years. The average yield will probably be 30 bushels. Barley average limited, very little raised for export, prospect good for a full crop. Hay, good, only raised for home consumption. Fruit not injured by frost, except apricots, good prospects for a full crop of other fruits, especially almonds and grapes.

Yosemite.

Calaveras, April 19.—The hotel at the Grove is now open for the reception of guests. The road is entirely free from snow and in good condition. The snow in the Grove is fast disappearing.

Weather and Crop Prospects.

San Diego, April 18.—The weather for the past few days has been cool and foggy, which will benefit the grain crop, which now is just filling out; most cheering accounts of an abundant harvest comes from all parts of the interior.

Colorado Exploring Expedition.

Lieut Bergland's detachment of Wheeler's exploring expedition will arrive here to-morrow, having finished the work along the Colorado river and thence to this point that was assigned to them.

The Democrat says: Mr. C. C. Kuhn, who owns a ranche a short distance above Albany, between the Willamette and Calapooia river, lost, last Monday night, 18 head of Angora goats by the high water, valued at about $200. There are rumors of considerable loss of stock in the bottoms above Albany, but to what extent it is not known.

At Seattle, last week, two men, named Potter and Dunn, were severely injured by the running away of a young horse which they were endeavoring to break.

SKETCH OF A REMARKABLE WESTERN MAN AND HEAD OF A REPRESENTATIVE AMERICAN PIONEER FAMILY—REV. WM. M. STEWART, OF SEMIAHMOO, WHATCOM CO., W. T.

[BY REV. G. H. ATKINSON, D.D.]

It is a common idea, especially at the East, that the Western pioneers are a rough, border people, living in tents, wagons and log cabins, ready to move when better classes come, and wholly unfit to lay the basis of civil, social, intelligent and Christian States. This is a mistake, and a reproach to the pioneers as well as a blunder on the part of our fellow citizens of the older States. One can see that the type of the Western States has ranked with that of the East in sound judgment, varied intelligence, wise statesmanship and good morals, and has suffered nothing in the comparison at any important point. This must be due to the quality and character of the Western pioneers, of whom the subject of this sketch, and his family, are fair representatives.

Rev Mr Stewart will be 82 years of age April 24, 1876. It cannot be said of him exactly as of Moses, "his eye was not dim or his natural force abated at four score years," but it can be said that in vigor of mind, in sight, hearing, power to walk, work and speak his force exceeds that of many much younger men. His residence with his son, A. W. Stewart, Esq., of Semiahmoo, dates from Nov. 21, 1874. Since then he has preached nearly every Sabbath, and often twice, and frequently on week days, in all 156 times, walking many times one or two miles to his appointments. He has organized a church of 7 members, now increased to 20. He has attended and addressed over 70 prayer meetings, including about a half-score of temperance meetings. He is universally beloved and welcomed with the familiar soubriquet of "grand pa."

His life began in Brownsville, Fayette county, Penn., April 24, 1794. Very soon his parents moved to Washington, Mason county, Kentucky, and after residing there six years, they removed to Adam, now Brown county, Ohio, in 1802. His father's trade of a spinning wheel and chair maker, became his trade also. For twenty years he resided in that county. Having had only about six months of school privileges, his eager mind sought books and knowledge from every source. The minister of the First Presbyterian church of that county, Rev James Gilliland, who had left South Carolina, on account of his love of freedom and truth of whose church his father was a member took strong hold of young Stewart's mind by his forcible sermons. He early in 1811 became a member of the church, though he was slow to act and speak in public. In 1812, also before there was any agitation on the subject of temperance, his pastor preached from Proverbs xx 1. "Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise." He set forth the vice of wine-drinking so strongly and the curse of drunkenness which was so common, that young Stewart, as he says, bowed his head in assent before the discourse was half done. From that moment he became a total abstinence man from all distilled liquors. Many others were angry at the sermon. His father exclaimed, "I believe in freedom; I will drink when I please." Father and son took opposite ground for a while, the latter gaining courage and strength in his position. An aged man, a soldier of the revolution of 92 years, hearing of his home struggles for the principle of temperance, and fearing he would give up, said, "Hold on, William; you are right. It is for your life; you'll be lost if you yield." At a little later date Dr. Beecher, of Litchfield, Conn., preached his six famous sermons upon intemperance, and organized a society to promote that cause, and three or four other moral reforms, such as the arrest of profane swearing and Sabbath breaking. The idea came out to Ohio and Mr. Stewart joined this society and worked for it, but it was cumbrous and at length it fell through. Mr. Stewart, true to his habit of adhering to every conviction and working it out, at length thought of a simple temperance society, pledged to that cause alone. He talked about it and finally led in the organization of one in that county. He was, as he believes, thus the mover of the first distinct temperance society west of the Allegheny mountains. From that day to this he has been the firm and faithful adherent and supporter of the cause. He early adopted the principle of abstinence from all vinous and fermented liquors.

In 1814 he enlisted in a cavalry company under Gen. McArthur, and was in the battle near Grand River, on the road between the river Thames and Burlington heights in Canada, in which the British were quickly defeated. He enlisted twice at later periods before the war of 1812 closed with victory to the American arms and honor to the American name, and safety to the American seamen on the high seas. Mr Stewart was ever an ardent and unflinching patriot, and during every period of our national history since, he has been one of the foremost advocates of our bill of rights and Declaration of Independence.

As the custom was in those times, he married early, being only 22, and set up his shop not far from his father's. His work, especially his spinning wheels, were, of course, not called for by the neighbors, for they had always bought of his father. When he had a dozen or two ready he took them to the towns down the Ohio and returned with the proceeds to extend his business.

About the year 1815, Rev. Mr. Gilliland preached a sermon from the text "Blessed is he that considereth the poor, the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble," and applied it especially to the duty of showing pity to the negro slaves. The discourse was very popular among the anti-slavery men, and was published by them. Mr. Gilliland said "there were no poor people in this country except the slaves. They had nothing. If they got anything, it was taken from them. They were robbed, and robbed, and robbed." These words of truth sunk so deep into Mr. Stewart's heart that he repeats them now after 60 years, and they seem as fresh as when they were first spoken. At a later date another minister tried to prove to him from the Bible that slavery was right; that God allowed it in ancient times among his people, that God had a right to make one man a slave and another, a master and that he exercised this right in making the negroes slaves, and the white men masters, that it was for some good purpose, that they were improved by slavery. They had come from Africa, poor, ignorant heathen, and now they were learning to know the true God, and to be civilized and decent people. We must not interfere with God's plans, but teach the masters to treat the slaves justly and kindly, and teach the slaves to obey and love their masters."

This kind of reasoning put some of Mr. Stewart's growing convictions of man's rights as man, to rest for about two weeks. He verily thought, if God appointed slavery for a good purpose, he ought not to lift up his voice against it, lest he be found fighting against God. During that brief time his brother-in-law, James Willis, Esq., a brother of Stephen D. Willis, Esq., now of Douglas county, Oregon, learning of the minister's plea with him for slavery and having himself known the evils of the system in South Carolina, set him right at once by the gospel rule, to love our neighbor as ourselves, and do him no harm. He showed that every man in God's sight has equal rights and duties with his fellow man, and that slavery was against every principle of love to man and love to God. From that moment Mr Stewart walked in the clear light and principles of human freedom. He became an earnest defender of it during the exciting debate over the Missouri compromise, in 1820, and the conflicts which followed in Illinois, having taken up his abode in Bond county, in that State. Here he took part early in organizing a Presbyterian church, and became one of its elders. Working steadily at his trade, to which he added that of a wagonmaker, he was a diligent student of the word of God and of the events of the times.

The slavery question agitated the people more and more, and became a bone of contention in the churches. Effort was made to suppress it and turn the discussion to the common doctrines and duties of religion. Rev. Albert Barnes was then becoming a noted preacher and commentator, against whom some charges of heresy in doctrine were made by his ministerial brethren. Dr Lyman Beecher had been induced to move to Cincinnati and take charge of Lane Seminary. These two champions of the new theology as it was called, had won other thoughtful men to mind the same things, and share with them the honor or the odium of defence of the faith. Mr Stewart was once for sometime afflicted with error, but he never doubted the truthfulness of the Scriptures, nor the sufficiency of the blood of Christ to cleanse from all sin. These were the sheet anchor of his soul. Whoever held to the Bible and to salvation alone in Christ won his confidence. He soon became strongly convinced of the soundness of Mr. Barnes' views.

He was chosen by the Schuyler Presbytery of Illinois a commissioner to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church, which met at Pittsburg in the autumn of 1835. On the way up the Ohio he asked Dr. Beecher why he did not write upon the anti slavery question. The doctor's reply was that it was hardly time, and showed how intensely he felt on the doctrinal question that was then foremost in the churches. His whole strength was absorbed in that. The contest over Mr. Barnes came on in the General Assembly. He was on trial for heresy. Rev. Dr. Wilson (?) being his accuser. Dr. Beecher was arraigned by Rev. Dr. Judkin. The debate grew warm, and Elder Stewart shared in it in such a degree that he was esteemed a champion of the New School wing of the Church. He won the respect and confidence of such men as Drs. Beman, Ely, Duffield, Barnes and Beecher.

The division of the Presbyterian church into old and new school occurred in 1837, which placed him with the latter wing. But his chief purpose was to address the General Assembly at that time upon the subject of slavery. Every effort was made to keep the question out and suppress debate upon it in any form. The Southern ministers and elders were present in large numbers, and the Northern brethren, disliking to offend them, chose to suppress any open view of their own convictions.

Elder Stewart's habit of mind had always been to declare what he believed to be truth. His motto was, "Let the light shine on every subject." "We shall thus get the whole truth and avoid error. He did not fear man, yet he respected man.

After much effort to lay over the question and prevent debate, it came up as published in the New York Evangelist, by Rev. Joshua Leavitt, D. D., the editor at that time. The speech of Elder Stewart, said Dr. Leavitt, ought to immortal-ize any man. Were it not too long it might be here appended, as very healthy reading for us, in its application to the two dyspeptic cases now on our hands, respecting the treatment of the Indians and the Chinese.

Its key note was struck in the resolution offered by Elder Stewart, on which he made his plea, namely: "That in the opinion of the General Assembly, involuntary servitude (except for crime) or the holding our fellow-man as property, is a highly aggravated sin, and ought to be so regarded by all the judicatories of the church." The spirit of his argument was that of the Bible, "to undo the heavy burdens and let the oppressed go free," while with terse speech he exposed the cruel practice of slavery in the United States. His address made a profound impression in its delivery, which was no doubt, deepened near its close by the following remarks and prophetic admonition. "But there can be no honest difference between Christians about the fact, whether slavery is a highly aggravated sin or not. Yet this church manifests a great disposition to let this sin alone, and sleep on the very verge of destruction, when even now the clouds are black with wrath, and if repentance and reformation do not avert, the judgment will soon burst on this guilty church and nation, when storms of thunderbolts, red with Jehovah's hot displeasure, shall be hurled from the heavens to take vengeance on the oppressor." After the fugitive slave law was passed by Congress in 1850, his pen exposed the guilt of returning slaves, especially in letters to Rev. Alexander Campbell, of Bethany, Va., who had advocated the principles of the law.

When President Lincoln seemed to waver in 1863 upon the question of freeing the slaves, Elder Stewart, having then become a minister, first in the United Brethren denomination, on account of their love of human liberty, and then in the Presbyterian church, in Illinois, wrote and sent the following verses to him, committing them to Hon. Salmon P. Chase his Secretary of the Treasury, who gave them into Mr. Lincoln's hand.

A BACKWOODS SONG.

By a soldier of the war of 1812—to Uncle Abe, President of the United States.

Good luck to you, brave Uncle Abe,
  You've done a world, good man, to save us—
To keep down traitors—bless the poor,
  That "Jeff" and "Nick" may not enslave us.

But know, good man, if you were God,
  You could not make the wrong be right, Sir;
Do what you can, say what you please,
  You cannot make the black be white, Sir.

You know that though you're wise and great,
  And have the nation at your back, Sir,
Still God is greater and will curse
  The man who fills the track, Sir.

But if you lead us, as you may,
  The world's award will be "True Greatness;"
But mind you, Sir, don't serve "Old Nick,"
  Or you shall be your final straitness.

Dear Uncle Abe, we know full well,
  That you're a man, so is a "nigger;"
But if you fail to make him free,
  You'll one day make a sorry figure.

Think what you will, good Uncle Abe,
  Of all your armies, fame and power;
But if you leave one slave in bonds
  That "thing" might crush you in an hour.

The rights of man are mighty things,
  They rise above earth's highest towers—
They triumph o'er all human laws
  And tread in dust despotic powers.

Kind heaven ordained the civil law
  To raise the low up to a level,
And he who tries to rob the poor
  By law, is meaner than the Devil.

And, Sir, when law has failed to right
  The wronged and rulers play aspirants,
Then God will plead the poor man's cause
  And kill such proud and heartless tyrants.

The rights of any child of man
  That labors in a useful station,
Are worth far more in sight of heaven,
  Than all the laws of any nation.

God raised you up, good Uncle Abe,
  To play the man and not King Saul, Sir,
Then bless the poor, put down Agag,
  Or like King Saul, you'll get a fall, Sir.

Don't use the sword deceitfully,
  Or judgments may on you descend Sir,
You have the right and power, then act,
  Or justice may not you defend, Sir.

And come what will, dear Uncle Abe
  Fill well your place, give each his right, Sir,
Then without flattery, all might say
  You'll shine among the brightest lights, Sir.

WM. M. STEWART.
Cedar Rapids Iowa, Dec. 27, 1863.

Elder Stewart continued his work in the shop and on the farm in Illinois and Iowa, training up his twelve children in habits of industry and economy and intelligence, and especially the study and obedience of the word of God. As a citizen he took a deep interest in the welfare of the pioneer settlements of these new territories. As he gazed over those vast prairies of Illinois almost without inhabitants in 1820 he thought of the landless people of Ireland, the home of his fathers and of England and Scotland and continental Europe, and of the poor of large cities, and wished they could come out and make homes of their own. The thought grew upon him, and ripened into the conviction that the government ought to give land to the landless. He wrote many articles and addressed many assemblies upon the subject, aiding, no doubt

THURSDAY MORNING, APRIL 20, 1876

A SPECIMEN OF DEMOCRATIC REFORM IN CONGRESS.

The other day when the bill to prevent corrupt [illegible] was under discussion in Congress the Democrats improved the golden opportunity to demonstrate how utterly hypocritical are their professions of a desire to effect some real and radical reform in the politics of the country. The bill, it will be recollected, prohibited under heavy penalties the contribution of funds for election purposes by employes and officers of the government. It was an excellent measure so far as it went, but it did not go far enough. It did not include Senators, Representatives and Delegates in Congress. Mr. Blaine offered an amendment bringing these under the same restrictions as administration officers and employes, and in the course of his remarks he stated that the contributions to the corruption funds by candidates for those offices exceeded many times over those holding other offices. The amendment was opposed by several Democrats on various grounds, but the manifest propriety of the amendment was such that quite a number of Democrats did not see fit to vote against it. So, with a united Republican vote and a divided Democratic support, the amendment was adopted by a vote of yeas 15, nays 88. In this situation the matter stood when Browne, of Kentucky, having introduced a substitute which was in some respects an improvement on the original bill, being the same in general scope and purpose but more carefully drawn, called for a vote on the question of substituting this bill for the original. Browne's substitute, like the original, did not embrace Congressmen. No objection was made to the substitute on the Republican side of the House, and it was adopted. Then Blaine offered his amendment to include Senators, Representatives and Delegates in Congress. That would have made the bill a complete substitute for the original in all its salutary provisions. But this time the Democrats doubled on their track and killed the amendment. They could vote for it when it was offered as an amendment to a bill which was to be voted out of existence; but when it came to the substitute which was to be the final draught of the bill, they voted it down. The Democratic Congressmen had no notion of passing a law that would restrain themselves from corrupting the elections in their efforts to be re-elected. They were willing to demagogue the people with a cheap pretense, but when the Republicans sought to make the reform thorough they were far from consenting.

The law as passed—Browne's substitute—is a step in the right direction, but it is only a short step when a long stride might as well have been taken, only that it would have curtailed the privileges of Democratic politicians in the matter of packing conventions and corrupting the ballot-box. The failure of the Republicans to pass such a law while they had the power to do so will not be a sufficient answer when the facts in this case are charged home upon the Democratic Congress before the people this fall. Both parties have waited too long before attempting to restrain the corrupting and dangerous practices at which the bill is aimed, but the people will be likely to require some better reason than that, for the refusal of the Democrats to make thorough and radical work of it, when they were offered the assistance of the Republicans for that purpose. When they say they have cut off the stream of corruption that runs from the custom houses, internal revenue offices, post offices and the like they are likely to be asked why they did not also cut off the greater stream that flows from the Senate and House of Representatives—an interrogatory which they cannot answer truthfully except by confessing that they are opposed to only such corruption as does not redound to their personal and partisan advantage.

WILL THEY DO IT?

The little seven-by-nine ring organ up the valley, which asserts that Belknap is an honest man, says also that "the precious thing necessary" to secure the success of the Republican ticket in this State is for the State Convention to pass a resolution "endorsing Grant's administration." Such a resolution would secure the success of the party in exactly the same way that the resolution endorsing the crimes of Senator Mitchell secured it in the congressional election of 1873, when as good a man as there is in the State was defeated by nearly a two-thirds vote by a Democratic candidate who was at that time very unpopular with his own party. If the Republican State Convention should have no more sagacity than to repeat that blunder the party would deserve the ignominious defeat which would be sure to follow. But the Convention will, we feel assured, be guilty of no such folly. There is an earnest desire among the masses of the Republican party to see the Convention place the party on such grounds that honest people who love the country and are not governed by the enjoyment of or the desire for Federal pap can support the candidates nominated. We can not but believe the honest masses will make themselves felt in the Convention. If they do the toadies and flunkeys who crook the pregnant hinges of the knee when thrift may follow fawning will fail utterly in their attempt to split the party on the fatal rock of Grantism.

THE TRANSFER OF THE RAILWAYS.

We have received two communications, one from Lincoln and one from Washington county, asking for an explanation of the fact that at the election of directors of the O. & C. R. R. Co. held last Saturday Mr. Holladay and Mr. Halsey were re-elected, notwithstanding their reported retirement from railway interests in the State. By reference to the report of another election held yesterday, which appears in this paper, it will be seen that these gentlemen were found disqualified [illegible] holding no stock, their places [illegible] were declared vacant and [illegible] was filled by the election of Mr. H. Villard. Mr. Villard was then elected president and Mr. R. Koehler vice president of the corporation.

The explanation of these changes we are informed is that before the arrangement was completed for the transfer of the stock of the roads to the German bondholders the time had passed for closing the transfer books preparatory to the annual election of directors. In order therefore to perfect the transfer it was considered necessary or expedient to have the election come off at the regular time and the new owners not being yet legally stockholders were of course incompetent for directors. So the old directors were re-elected, then the transfer books were reopened and the stock transferred to the new owners, leaving Holladay and Halsey disqualified to hold the directorships and making a special election necessary. The special election finished up the transfer of the official control as well as the stock of the company.

A North Carolinian named Van Amringe has preferred a claim to the land on which the Centennial exhibition buildings are erected, and proposes to place the matter in the hands of a prominent lawyer for adjustment. The deed which Mr. Van Amringe possesses is dated 14th day of December 1758, and calls for a piece of what is situated on the west side of Little Rush Hill, near the creek in Delaware township, Northampton county. Mr. [illegible] Price, one of the best informed Philadelphia lawyers on the titles, says the land mentioned in the deed is near Stroudsburg, 40 miles from Philadelphia. The title to the ground upon which the Centennial buildings are situated has been in the families of Judge Peters and the Binghams since it was granted to them by letters patent from William Penn.

On another page of this paper will be found a correct statement of the proposition of the Central Pacific Railway Company to build the Portland and Winnemucca railway. The proposition is far less objectionable in many respects than as it appeared in the Journal of yesterday, but unless it is modified very considerably from what it is the matter may as well be dropped at once. All efforts to secure the passage of it without material modifications will be labor thrown away.

When men in the United States would announce their intention to support a particular tender they hurrah for him. In France they "fraternize." But in Mexico the correct thing is to pronounce. The exact details of this feat are variable. When French soldiers fraternize they drink out of each other's canteens and embrace. Mexican warriors sit down to a friendly game of monte or they adjourn to the nearest cockpit.

The impeachment trial has been adjourned until the 27th inst. In the meantime the counsel of Belknap and the board of managers will prepare and file the papers necessary for the proper joining of the issues involved.

The President has nominated E. P. Ferry as Governor of Washington Territory.

IRREGULARITIES OF THE MAIL SERVICE.

The following letter needs no further explanation than to say that the papers leave this office every morning promptly for Seattle and there is certainly gross carelessness somewhere in the postal service on the route. We hope this notice may attract the attention of the person in fault and prevent any further neglect of the kind complained of:

STEILACOOM, W. T., April 15, 1876.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

We the undersigned subscribers to the DAILY OREGONIAN would respectfully represent that for the last six or eight weeks, instead of receiving the paper every evening as we should (there being a daily mail between this city and the station of the N. P. R. R. Co. at Lake View), it is received but three or four times a week, unless received by return mail from down Sound. We do not know where the trouble is, but believe on the part of the mail agent between Portland and this place, as the papers are frequently carried down the Sound and brought back on the mail steamer. Not wishing to pay for a daily paper unless it can be received regularly, we make this statement hoping you may be able through the columns of your valuable paper to correct the evil. Very respectfully, Irving Ballard, Clendenin, [illegible] Miller, George B. Kandle, Peter Nelson, J. J. Westbrook, W. Thompson, H. Goodtime, I. G. Shelton, John M. Downey, Jacob Hoover.

Secretary Robeson having been charged with illegally lending government money to Jay Cooke, McCulloch & Co. to help them out of a tight place, explains his action in this way:

On the 18th of September, when Jay Cooke failed, the London house owed the navy department $800,000. Mr. Robeson was assured by Cattell and Bradford that the house would stand, but he knew it must be shaken and was not a safe government depositary. Accordingly he sent on September 24th $1,500,000 to Paymaster Bradford to use in taking up navy drafts if Cooke, McCulloch & Co. should stop. By October 20th Cooke, McCulloch & Co., continuing according to Mr. Robeson to act as navy bankers and honoring, as we understand, all drafts which came in, had paid out only $300,000. They still owed Mr. Robeson $800,000 and they asked him to advance them a million more, which he did. [illegible] they owed him $1,000,000. In October, 1873, Cooke, McCulloch & Co. owed him only $900,000 and at present they owe him nearly $700,000. That is to say they got into him on the whole $100,000 deeper in the end than they stood in October, 1873, when it was in his power to stop transactions with them because he had then security to cover that debt.

The damages sustained by the schooner Kathleen proved to be less serious than was supposed, and she is again loaded and ready for sea.

LAND FOR IMMIGRANTS.

Choice Farms for Sale.

4,000 ACRES IN QUANTITIES TO SUIT PURCHASERS.

230 ACRES DUE SOUTH AND ADJOINING the Railroad Depot at Salem; all under cultivation and suitable for grain or vegetables.

946 Acres four miles southeast of Salem on the railroad, with Mill creek running through it. This is the choicest farming land in Marion county, with fine springs, consisting in part of the old Rector donation claim, on which I raised the past year fifty bushels of Wheat and three tons of timothy per acre. The first crop of oats ever raised on part of this land measured ninety-four bushels per acre, grain weighed and ground chained by Mr. Alfred Stanton, of Salem.

2,700 Acres of prairie and light brush land with timber for farming purposes, bounded by the Willamette River for four miles, beautiful lake on the east, boat landings all along the river, commencing four miles north of Salem—all choice grain land—the largest and most suitable body of land to be found in the Willamette Valley to be purchased by a colony. To be sold from $16 to $25 per acre. This land will all be immediately resurveyed and can be sold in larger or smaller parcels to suit purchasers. It can be subdivided to the best possible advantage, and I can offer any person or persons or colony of persons desiring to purchase homes in the best part of the Willamette Valley, near the city of Salem and within reach of the best social advantages, as well as most favorably located with respect to markets, greater advantages, on more favorable terms than they can ever expect to realize again.

NO MORE BALDNESS!

MRS. S. LORD, AGENT FOR OREGON AND Washington for Mrs. Moore's Great Scientific HAIR PRODUCER, would announce to ladies and gentlemen who desire the personal adornment of a fine suit of hair that she has opened parlors for its express treatment. They are emphatically assured she possesses the skill to produce a full crop of hair on all stages of baldness. A few treatments will convince the most skeptical that this is no exaggeration. Weak, decaying and falling hair made strong, healthy and vigorous. No mineral or damaging substances used, or disagreeable methods. On the contrary the treatment is pleasant and soothing, bringing the scalp rapidly into a natural healthful tone, and furnishing the proper elements to the bulbs and hair, which is produced in a surprisingly short space of time. Hair guaranteed in all cases where the directions are faithfully followed. Ladies and gentlemen are invited to call at her Parlors and examine photographs of prominent men taken before and after treatment, which must remove skepticism. Most satisfactory proof furnished. Parlors No. 16, third floor First National Bank Building, First st. above Washington, Portland. Preparations sent to all parts of Oregon and Washington.

CITY.

A MONSTROUS HAZEL —Mr I P Rollins a [illegible] who lives about 34 miles from [illegible] on the old Barlow road recently cut [illegible] his farm a stalk of hazel, which is beyond [illegible] doubt, is the largest one yet seen in this [illegible]. The twig (?) measures a little over [illegible] inches in diameter level with the [illegible] and stood, just as it grew about five [illegible] high. The outer bark bears considerable [illegible] to an alder and might be mis[illegible] for that growth at a casual examina[illegible] Mr Rollins states that he gathered nuts [illegible] the branches last season, and can vouch [illegible] its being a genuine hazel While passing [illegible] the woods one day Mr Rollins in [illegible] observed the sapling and was so [illegible] with its remarkable size that he cut it [illegible] and preserved it. Yesterday he brought [illegible] a portion of the stalk to the city and placed [illegible] an exhibition at the railroad land office as a [illegible] of what the land in his section of the [illegible] is capable of producing.

TIRED OF LIFE.—A Chinaman who has [illegible] steadily as a servant in the house of [illegible] of our citizens for several years informed [illegible] employer on Tuesday last that he had re[illegible] a letter from his friends in China ask[illegible] "my money" and says he, "me allee; and I [illegible] makee money, so now me no got some [illegible] me die." The employer thought [illegible] of John's remarks until yesterday [illegible] the despondent John came to the house [illegible] very strangely, laying down [illegible] back rooms where he remained all day [illegible] evening the employer informed the [illegible] friends, who found that he had [illegible] himself with opium with the evident [illegible] of ending his life and his troubles [illegible] conveyed to some of the Chinese quar[illegible] [illegible] condition and ere this [illegible] probably, one more defunct Celestial [illegible] transportation to the flowery king[illegible]

A MAN OVERBOARD.—While the steamer [illegible] was lying at Rainier dock a colored [illegible] named Jenkins, in the employ of [illegible] Myers & Co., attempted to pass in a [illegible] the steamer's wheel The current [illegible] him into the wheel, and at the same [illegible] the engine commenced working, which [illegible] the boat. Jenkins had the presence [illegible] to get on the buckets, and made a [illegible] revolution before the engines were [illegible] Those on the wharf shouted in [illegible] accents to the engineer to stop her [illegible] man in the wheel," etc Life pre[illegible] were thrown overboard from the [illegible] and everybody near thought that the [illegible] had "passed in his checks," but for [illegible] favored him. He was got out of the [illegible] looking quite pale. It was said he was [illegible] etc, but was no such thing The boat [illegible] damaged to the extent of $5

WATER CONNECTIONS.—In compliance with [illegible] ordinance passed at the last meeting of the [illegible] council in relation to connecting cer[illegible] cisterns with the water mains, Chief Engi[illegible] Lyon has been engaged for some days in [illegible] the necessary work Connection [illegible] been made between the water mains and [illegible] cisterns at the intersection of the follow[illegible] streets Salmon and Ninth, North Sixth [illegible] D, Montgomery and Third, and Seventh [illegible] Oak. The pipes leading from the mains [illegible] cisterns at the intersections of Salmon [illegible] Ninth, and North Sixth and D streets, [illegible] and a half inches in diameter Those [illegible] connecting the mains with the cisterns at [illegible] Montgomery and Third and Seventh and Oak [illegible] streets are one half inch in diameter, and are respectively 284 and 270 feet long.

CIGAR SHOP SEIZED.—For some time past it has come to the knowledge of Collector O N Denny that the revenue law was being vio[illegible] by some of the Chinese cigar manufac[illegible] of the city It was ascertained that cigars were manufactured and placed in boxes which had been stamped with old stamps A sharp lookout was kept up to detect the guilty person or persons, but the culprit was so cun[illegible] and wary that the officers were eluded At length the guilt was fastened on a cigar [illegible] shop is situated on the east side of [illegible] between Oak and Pine Yes[illegible] Mr Denny and his deputy pro[illegible] to the [illegible] and confiscated his stock and [illegible] away to a place where it [illegible] taken care of.

O. & C. R. R. Co.—ELECTION —Yesterday a [illegible] meeting was held in the office of the Oregon and California Railroad Company [illegible] ascertained that Ben Holladay and [illegible] Halsey directors did not own a share of railroad stock and, in accordance [illegible] were decided ineligible to hold the [illegible] of directors, and their places were de[illegible] vacant. Mr. Henry Villard was chosen to fill one of the vacancies thus created the [illegible] remaining vacant for the present Later [illegible] meeting was held by the directors for the election of officers, resulting as follows Pres[illegible] Henry Villard, vice president R Koeh[illegible] secretary, A G Cunningham

OREGON MEDICAL SOCIETY —Dr C C Strong [illegible] permanent secretary of the Medical Society of the State of Oregon, which will meet in this city on the 5th of July, has made arrange[illegible] so that all members and medical men [illegible] the annual meeting will be passed over the following routes O S N Co Wil[illegible] Transportation and Locks Co O & C R R, and the O. THE WINNEMUCCA RAILWAY PROPOSITION

We are enabled this morning to present our readers with a complete statement of the propo[illegible] [illegible] of the Central Pacific Railway Company to construct the Portland and Winnemucca Railway This can be best done by giving an abstract of the bill prepared by that company to be laid before the people through their legislature

Section 1 Creates [illegible] [illegible] Central [illegible] Railroad [illegible]

Sec 2 Defines the proposed line [illegible] with [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] north [illegible] Eugene City and thence to the city of Portland [illegible] [illegible] with branches and exten[illegible] [illegible] Columbia river

Sec 3 Gives power to acquire the fran[illegible] [illegible] of Oregon Central Railway and [illegible] [illegible] necessary [illegible] [illegible]

Sec 4 Gives right of way of 100 feet and necessary grounds for stations depots and side tracks not exceeding 10 acres at any one place, and right to take timber stone and water to construct the road

Sec 5 Right to purchase public and un[illegible] occupied lands for purposes of company at rates established by law

Sec 6 Exemption from taxes state county municipal or local character until net earnings [illegible] (after payment of ex[illegible] [illegible] and interest payments) shall ex[illegible] ceed the sum of 10 per cent per annum on capital stock of company thereafter company to pay taxes by general laws applicable to real and personal property

Sec 7 Giving railroad company power to issue its own bonds and pay interest thereon not exceeding 8 per cent per year

Sec 8 Contracting "from and after ac[illegible] ceptance of this act" to transport and convey over the railroad company's road all public messengers convicts prisoners [illegible] public officers and all articles for the State Fair at Salem and to be returned therefrom and in case of war invasion or insurrection the troops and munitions of war etc , etc , for a sum equivalent to $240 000 per year for 30 years, payments to be made pro rata on each 10 miles of the road when built this section concludes thus And said (interest) pay[illegible] ments shall be deemed to be a full and suffi[illegible] cient compensation for said services and no other or further liability shall accrue to the State within the period mentioned for or on account of any interest payments nor at any time on account of the principal sum of said bonds, which shall be paid by said railroad company at maturity (This does away with the assertion in last evening's Journal that the State pays the principal sum of three mil[illegible] lion dollars)

Sec 9 Authorizes the city of Portland, or the county of Multnomah to subscribe or issue its bonds to an amount not exceeding one million dollars at 8 per cent interest and to levy a tax for same But the Central [illegible] railroad company do not however ask the city to subscribe that sum They say that it is altogether likely that they may have to erect important structures on the river at Portland after the line is completed and expect the city would assist them in making these structures and river improvements, but they add possibly not until after the city has be[illegible] gun to feel the benefits of the railroad Nor do they say that they will ask a million dol[illegible] lars for these purposes It is left to the peo[illegible] ple of Portland to vote a sum not exceeding one million dollars

Sec 10 Specifies that the surveys are to be commenced immediately and the road built within 10 years

Sec 11 Gives the company power as to fares and freights, and tolls to be collected, until the company earns interest on its bonds and capital invested but provides that the company cannot at any time charge higher rates per mile than may be charged for the time being by the Central Pacific Railroad main line in Utah and Nevada and compels the company to issue through bills of lading to and from Portland and Atlantic coast and Mississippi valley at rates never exceeding those charged to or from San Francisco, with the ocean charge from San Francisco to Port[illegible] land added thereto

THE CITY PARK [illegible]

Several years ago certain parties contracted with a member of one of the standing com[illegible] mittees of the council for the furnishing of building materials for the construction of a house on the public park belonging to the city It seems that these contracts were en[illegible] tered into between the member of the com[illegible] mittee and those furnishing the materials without concurrence of the other gentlemen composing the committee After the house was finished the parties presented their claims for payment, but as grave differences arose between members of the council about the liability of the city to pay the bills the question [illegible] an open one and for sev[illegible] eral years has been a "bone of contention" Those members favoring the liquidation of the claims have several times endeavored to pass a resolution authorizing the bills to be paid but these efforts have successively failed For the third time we believe [illegible] was offered last evening to finally [illegible] this [illegible] vexed subject Councilman [illegible] offered the following resolution

Resolved That the auditor be instructed to draw warrants according to ordinance No 1710 making an appropriation for material and labor performed upon the public park

As might reasonably have been expected the resolution provoked a very warm dis[illegible] [illegible] during which two motions [illegible] [illegible] equal number [illegible] [illegible] the further consideration [illegible] [illegible] voted down After [illegible] [illegible] the resolution [illegible] [illegible] Andrus [illegible] [illegible] Salmon [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Strowbridge and Wiley

On motion the council adjourned

SEATTLE ITEMS.

Our Seattle correspondent, writing under date of April 19th sends the following

The City of Panama sailed this afternoon for Victoria and San Francisco

The ship Eldorado is now loading coal at the S C & P Co's bunkers

The barks Atalanta (nearly ready for sea with Talbot coal) Montana Mammoth [illegible] [illegible] Ocean Hunter [illegible] and barkentine Da coven are in port loading and to load coal and lumber

The bark Ornate sailed last Monday bark Lizzie Williams sailed last Saturday both with Seattle coal for San Francisco The Mattie Mackay sailed on last Friday morning with Talbot coal

The steamer Zephyr is again on the route between this place and Olympia after having had her cabin enlarged receiving a new [illegible] of paint and being generally overhauled She is a very pleasant passenger boat

The Intelligencer now nearly in its 10th year of publication is shortly to be enlarged from its present size [illegible] seven columns to a nine column sheet A new Potter power press has been ordered from Chicago and will be up on the next steamer from below The Intelligencer is one of the most reliable and highly appre[illegible] ciated (as well as prosperous) journals pub[illegible] lished in the Territory

A proposition has been recently made to the Seattle and Walla Walla Railroad Company by a responsible party to furnish the requisite means upon certain reasonable conditions for the construction of the first section of 20 miles of the road The directors meet to night to consider this proposal and there seems to be no doubt that the work of con[illegible] struction will be shortly commenced The building of the first section is a long step to[illegible] ward ultimate railway connection with East[illegible] ern Washington There is no adequate estimate of the immense mineral wealth which would be at once available upon the building of even the first 10 or 20 miles

NOTES FROM SALEM.

SOCIAL PERSONAL AND OTHERWISE

Under date of April 19th our regular cor[illegible] respondent sends the following

The Democratic county convention meets on Saturday next

Miss Maria D'Arcy has been elected teacher in the Howell Prairie school and has entered upon her duties

Skating rink still running and arrangements under way for a grand masquerade carnival to take place at an early date

The Willamette is receding slowly at this point It is too high yet however to allow the passage to and fro of the Salem ferry

Newspaper mails have commenced arriving overland to the evident satisfaction of all par[illegible] ties interested, excepting perhaps the mail contractors

And now the Linn county court likewise refuse to locate the Santiam bridge and it looks as though, between the two the project may yet fall through

W S Chapman of your city, having com[illegible] pleted his surveying contract, is here prepared to make his report to the city council and re[illegible] ceive his equivalents

County politics are not only warming up but they are boiling over Candidates are nu[illegible] merous and will probably increase in numbers until after the county convention which meets on Friday

The attendance at the Congregational church last evening on the occasion of the delivery of Hon H H Gilfrey's lecture on the 'Tombs of Dead Cities' was both flatter[illegible] ing to the speaker and beneficial to the treas[illegible] ury of the Y M C A for which it was de[illegible] livered and by those present was declared the most interesting one of the course

MUSICAL AND LITERARY.

To-morrow evening the grand concert for the benefit of the "Home" will take place at New Market theater Among those volun[illegible] teering for the occasion we note the names of many prominent professional and amateur talent A large and refined audience may be expected to be present

The audience at the entertainment given by the Taylor street literary society at the M E church parlors last evening was not as large as the meritorious character of the perform[illegible] ance deserved The programme consisting of reading by Miss Nellie Waltz song by Miss Lizzie Anderson, with a chorus by young ladies and gentlemen a quartette by young men essay on "honest men" by Herbert Northrup declamations by Wm and Grover Simpson, and instrumental music by Mrs H Y Thompson and Miss Della Carter was car[illegible] ried out very successfully and to the pleasure of the listeners

ELECTION OF DELEGATES.

The Republican primaries held yesterday afternoon in the several precincts of the city resulted in the election of the following dele[illegible] gates to attend the county convention

The following song written for the Land work by a member of the Marion Club in Iowa was from his pen

Land for Every Man"

The prairies speak and bid you come
[illegible] extent
[illegible] have a home,
[illegible]
[illegible] poor of every hue
[illegible] plain
[illegible]
And land for every man

The prairies speak and bid you come
And see their lovely face
Their verdure's crowned with beauteous bloom
And many a grace
The soil gives man and beast their food
Be happy while you can
Here's peace and plenty for the good
And land for every man

The prairies speak and bid you come
And share their countless charms
For all [illegible] there is room,
[illegible] arms
Haste all ye needy haste away
Our [illegible] freely scan
Come and enjoy fair freedom's sway
[illegible] land for every man

The prairies speak and bid you come
[illegible]
But landlords and their serfs should roam
Where men were born to fear
We have no place for tyranny
Whoever may lead the van
But love and kindness for the free
And land for every man

The woodlands too unite their voice
And bid the landless come
From all our trees to take their choice,
And make a happy home
The grass the woods and lands say come
Enjoy it while you can
Here's kindness peace and ample room
And land for every man

All nature and her God invite
And press this call on you
Haste, haste away and claim your right
And leave the landlord crew
Just speak and be forever free
From the oppressors clan
Claim all embraced in liberty
And land for every man

CEDAR RAPIDS 1847

Mr Stewart believes that all the public lands should be given to those who live upon and cultivate them and never sold He abhors the monopoly of land as an evil if possible more cruel and unjust than slavery His convictions are strong and strongly spoken, and yet with all kindness He stands as a patriarch among his descendants, blessing them and receiving their reverential and kindly offices. His twelve children, the eldest sixty years of age, still live to love and honor him in walks of usefulness and Christian virtues, all west of the Alleghanies, and live west of the Rocky mountains, forty four grand children rise up to call him blessed, and nineteen great grand children look up to him with loving confidence and rejoice in his kind words to them Two of his sons served in the Union army in the late war, one as a captain who was afterward a superintendent of schools in Arkansas One grandson fell in the battle of Pea Ridge Not one of all his numerous family has fallen into habits of intemperance

We attended a temperance meeting together March 22d, at a private house on Drayton's harbor The subject taken was Prov 20 1, Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging, and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise ' It was the theme of Rev Mr Gilliland's discourse in 1811—sixty five years before—in Ohio, which turned him from the habit of tippling and made him a sober man Wine has never since mocked him, or strong drink deceived him In 1825 he wrote and published the distiller's prayer, as follows

' O Lord my maker and benefactor, it is unto Thee that I make my appeal, for thou knowest all things. Thou knowest that when I make and sell whisky I do it with the single eye to my purse without the least regard to the credit of Christianity, the good of my neighbor, or the welfare of my country And now O Lord grant me my requests if it should cost me my eternal salvation and that of my family and friends. Give me grace and wisdom to make good whisky and a great quantity of it. Increase the number of dram-shops, and give to all men an unquenchable thirst for strong drink. Open the eyes of those blinded mortals, who think it wrong to tipple, and show them that the free use of ardent spirits greatly promotes the wealth and happiness of distillers and venders of strong drink. Convince men that whisky is one of the good creatures, and ought to be received with all humility and thanksgiving If enthusiasts and the over righteous should try to stop dram drinking, be pleased to disappoint and smash their plans. Hasten the glorious hour, when all barriers to free drinking shall be broken down Grant us fruitful seasons, that grain may be plenty and cheap, not that I care for the peace of society, or the good of the world, in the smallest degree, but I ask all in the name of money and for my own sake, amen " Mr Gilliland read this prayer to one of his parishioners in Ohio, named Sutherland who was putting up a distillery, and the man gave up his project immediately. Mr. Stewart said that in those early days everybody drank whisky. His father put in a barrel of it for daily use as he did flour Church members and officers drank it. He had known ministers to go into their pulpits so drunk that they had to be held up

Dr Rush used to say that every woman in Philadelphia was a drunkard Now how changed no minister or member of any Church can drink it without reproach He was thankful for it, but we must continue to work until every man, woman and child is saved from this curse He attends and takes an active part in the Semiahmoo Temperance Society's monthly meetings, going four miles in boat, and on foot over a rough trail, with his children and grand children, to do so and thus he has the joy of looking upon a sober household, from the oldest to the youngest

His love of the Bible and care to keep the Sabbath has instilled this principle into the family, and the blessing of this holy day has made its impress upon them although they have been always among the front ranks of American pioneers. It happens to this class of our people to be required to do many kinds of handywork Taught to make spinning wheels and chairs in his father's shop, he also learned the blacksmith's trade while set to blow and strike for a hired smith. His first work was to make a pair of compasses, his next the irons for the spinning wheels, of which he made more than two thousand before 'factory goods" put them out of use. His wagon-making began by filling a broken down wheel for a man, who was 50 miles from a wagon shop His skill increased until his own shop turned out the best wagons and chairs in the region His own room is furnished with tables and chairs of his own make since he came to this coast three years ago Nearly all his sons have learned of him to be good mechanics and his grandsons are doing the same While we were talking yesterday his son came in from the blacksmith shop saying ' Father, a difficult piece of work has just come will you come out and show us how to do it? His leather apron was put on and he was soon at the forge tempering and welding the iron swinging the hammer in regular stroke with another while turning the ring

But it is as a minister of the Gospel that he excels During the last week he has attended a meeting every day or evening, and taken a part walking from one and a half to two miles He has gathered a church of 20 members and a congregation of 40 or 50 to whom he ministers regularly His pen or his voice or his hands are always employed He has no wealth, and no property laid by He has, within two years published a well prepared essay on the ' Holy Trinity ' and a second carefully revised edition is now ready for the press While he is pastor of the Congregational church of Semiahmoo he is a cordial and acceptable worker with other Christians and philanthropists in all the region On arriving in the country he published a letter upon the great advantages of this northwest for settlers and scattered many copies in Iowa and Illinois

Such a patriarch of the past century a soldier of the war of 1812 a Christian and temperance veteran of that early time and an unflinching defender of the American principle of human freedom against the practice of American slavery until it was abolished not as he hoped and labored and prayed by the moral power of the truth and the church of Christ but by the stern and terrible cathartic of civil war which he predicted as the alternative a tireless worker for the welfare of the landless poor an unwearied seeker for and defender by voice and pen of the truths of the Bible an industrious almost ceaseless minister of the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ he stands forth to day a fit monument for the centennial year of a representative American Pioneer at the head of a representative family of American pioneers

Honor to such men and their faithful households who have extended the area of our republic and borne our flag and our honor and our virtues aloft untarnished from the east and the western oceans

There is no change in the condition of local money matters the supply of available funds being amply sufficient to meet the current demand which is light Rates for loans and discounts remain unchanged with no perceptible tendency toward a decline which however is likely to [illegible] by even a moderate increase in the demand

A report of the Bank of British Columbia to the 31st of December last has just appeared the directors state the net profit for the half year at $9[illegible] which has been appropriated by a dividend on the capital stock at the rate of 8 per cent An addition of $25,000 has been made to the reserve fund thereby increasing it to $[illegible] and $[illegible] has been carried over to [illegible] with in the next half year which will end the 30th of June next

Latest mail advices from San Francisco put a still better face on the silver discount question On the 13th silver was squarely down to 1 per cent and as high as 3 per cent was offered for half dollars It being semi monthly collection day large quantities of silver coin changed hands in payment of bills. A resolution was adopted at a meeting of the fruit and vegetable dealers favoring the use of silver coin as a basis of trade All grain sales, however, are still made on a gold basis as are transactions in most other departments of trade

On the 14th there was a deposit at the San Francisco mint for coinage into trade dollars an amount of silver bullion exceeding half a million dollars in value and an accumulation of that metal was being made daily The last steamship from San Francisco carried away $300,000 in fine silver but the Chinese demand is not as active or great as it was a few months ago

The Coal Trade

That this Northwest coast has a mine of untold wealth in its coal beds is admitted and time is certain to develop this source of prosperity At present this interest on our coast is contending with a very serious competition The dull state of the carrying trade has resulted in the accumulation of a large quantity of tonnage at Liverpool and other ports in Great Britain and the prospects for an unparalleled wheat crop in California this year naturally disposes the owners of tonnage to send it this way even at a nominal rate and it is said that coal is now being taken aboard some of those vessels for California at 15s to 16s freight per ton These are believed to be the lowest freights ever accepted this way from ports in Great Britain In consequence of these large purchases of coal, the list of vessels up for San Francisco has been considerably increased within the past few weeks and others now due will be immediately laid on for the same purpose The European fleet now on the way to San Francisco consists of 36 vessels of which 21 hail from England 7 from Scotland 4 from France 2 from Germany and 2 from Italy The list entered out for San Francisco at Liverpool at last advices consisted of 16 ships representing 2[illegible],000 tons These will take considerable quantities of coal We have no data as to the number loading at other ports of the United Kingdom for San Francisco but taking all the ports there is probably as many as at Liverpool We shall have more coal from Europe and less from Australia than we had in 1875, and lower prices all round

Marine Disasters for March.

The March list of marine disasters embraces 69 vessels, bound to or from ports in the United States or owned by parties residing in this country The estimated value of the property lost, exclusive of cargoes, is $1,600,000, The list comprises 4 steamers, 8 ships, 12 barks 7 brigs and 38 schooners The only vessels in the list in which this coast had an interest were the Carrier Dove, wrecked while on her way to load at Philadelphia for San Francisco, bark Isaac Jeoms, wrecked just outside the Heads, and schooner Lizzie, wrecked at Yaquina Bay
